

BLUE AND GOLD '75

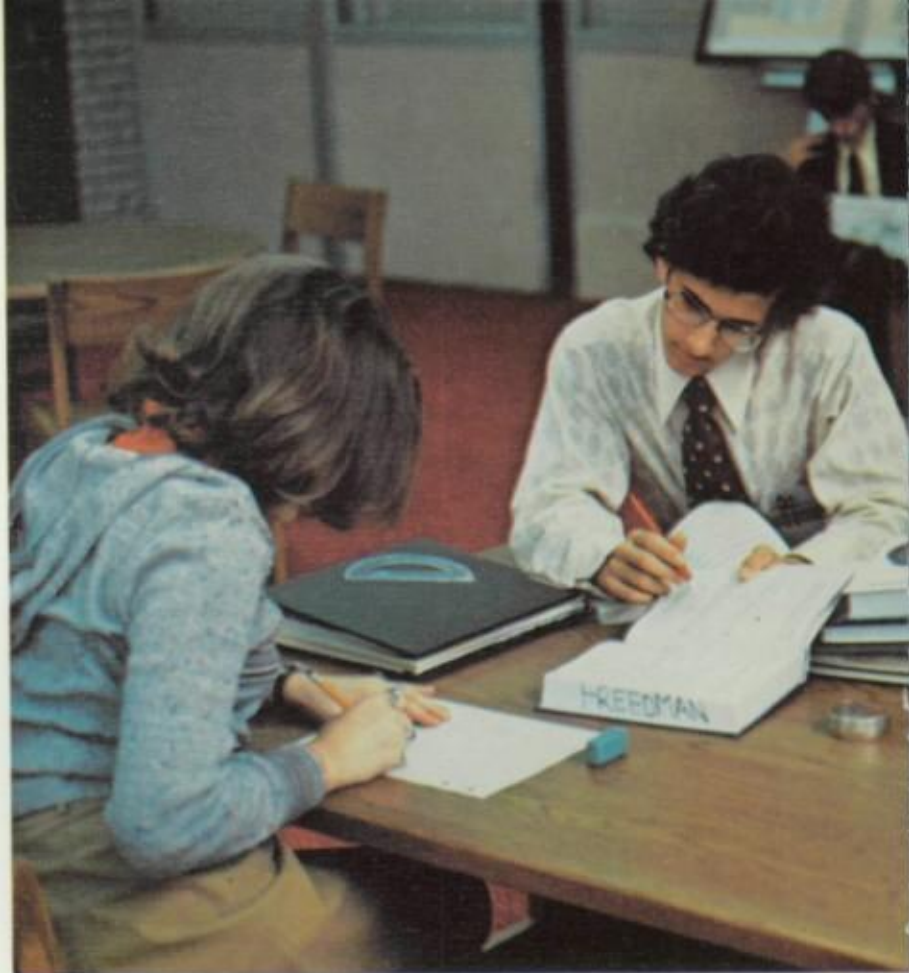

1975 BLUE AND GOLD

detroit country day school
birmingham, michigan

any people think that they can really describe the typical Country Day student.

They look at us,
on top of our own
Mount Olympus, and they see us
as a people set apart.
They see us as a melting pot,
a melting pot of intelligent over-achievers
and over-indulged materialists.

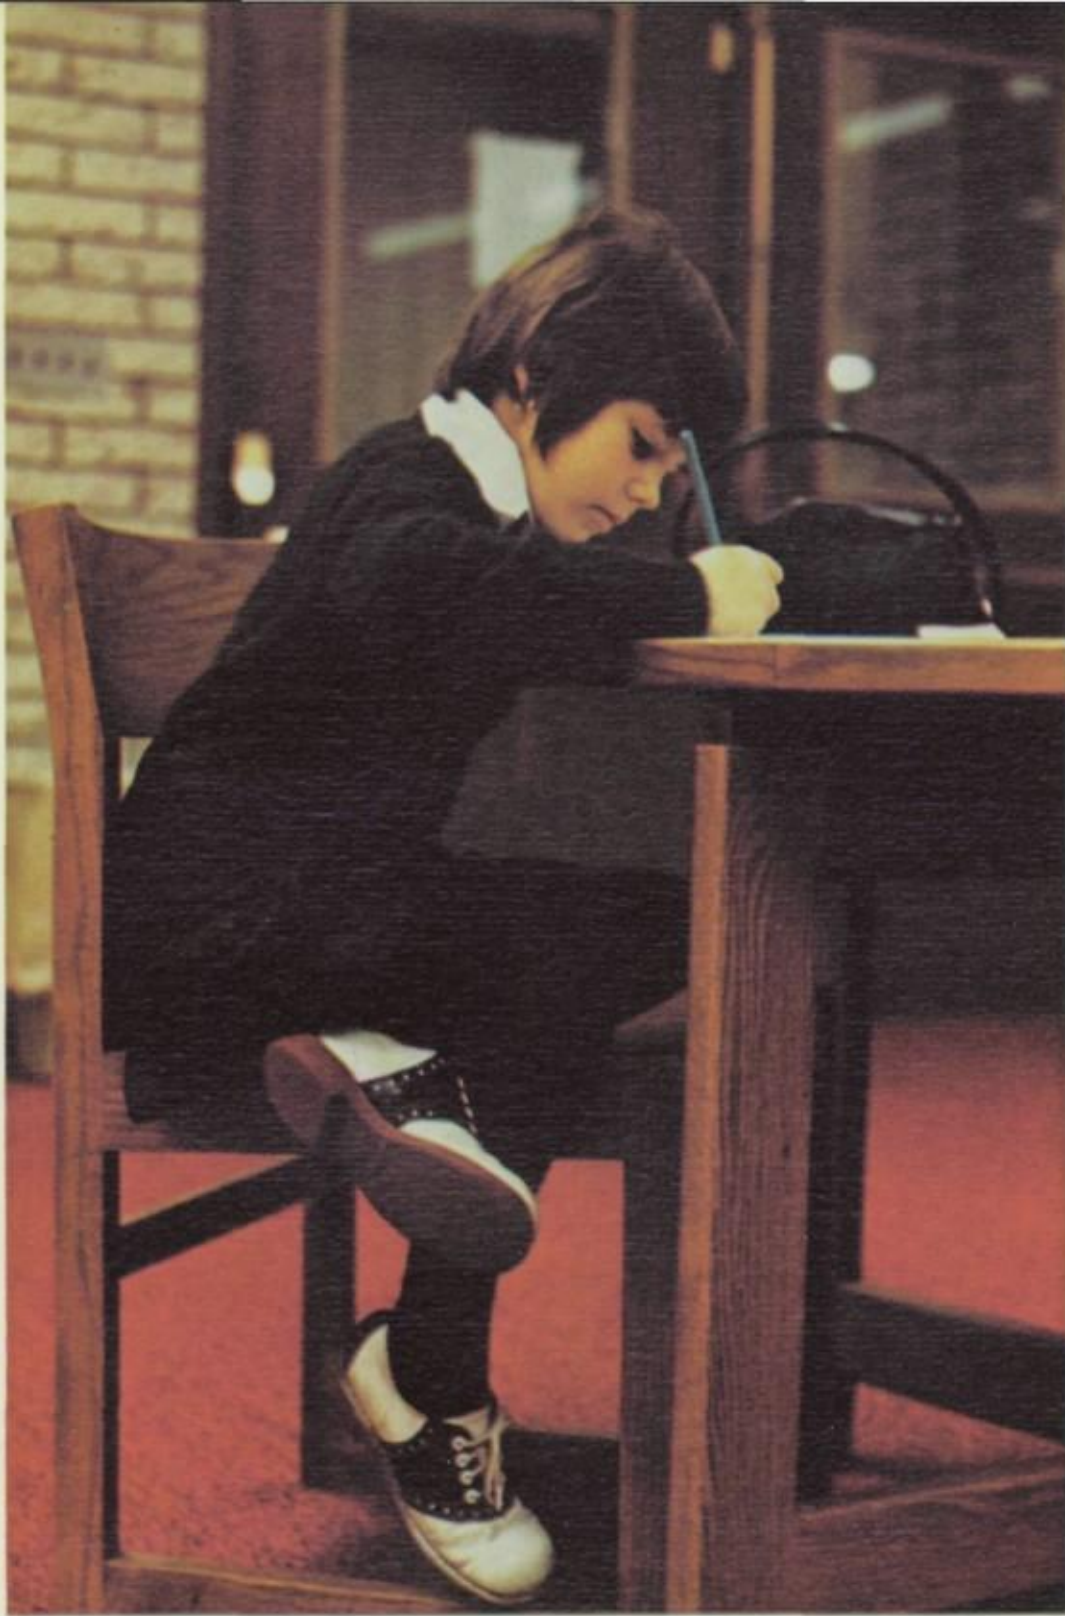

They see only
an institution, a sign,
"Detroit Country Day School."
Forced to take this outsider's view of the school,
their vision becomes blurred.
They catch only fleeting glimpses of our diversity and notice only fragments of our humane feelings.

Hopefully, someday, they will realize that there is, in fact, no single way to describe the typical Country Day student. Maybe they will see our activity of thought, or our recognition that mere scraps of information are useless. Maybe they will feel our receptiveness to others.

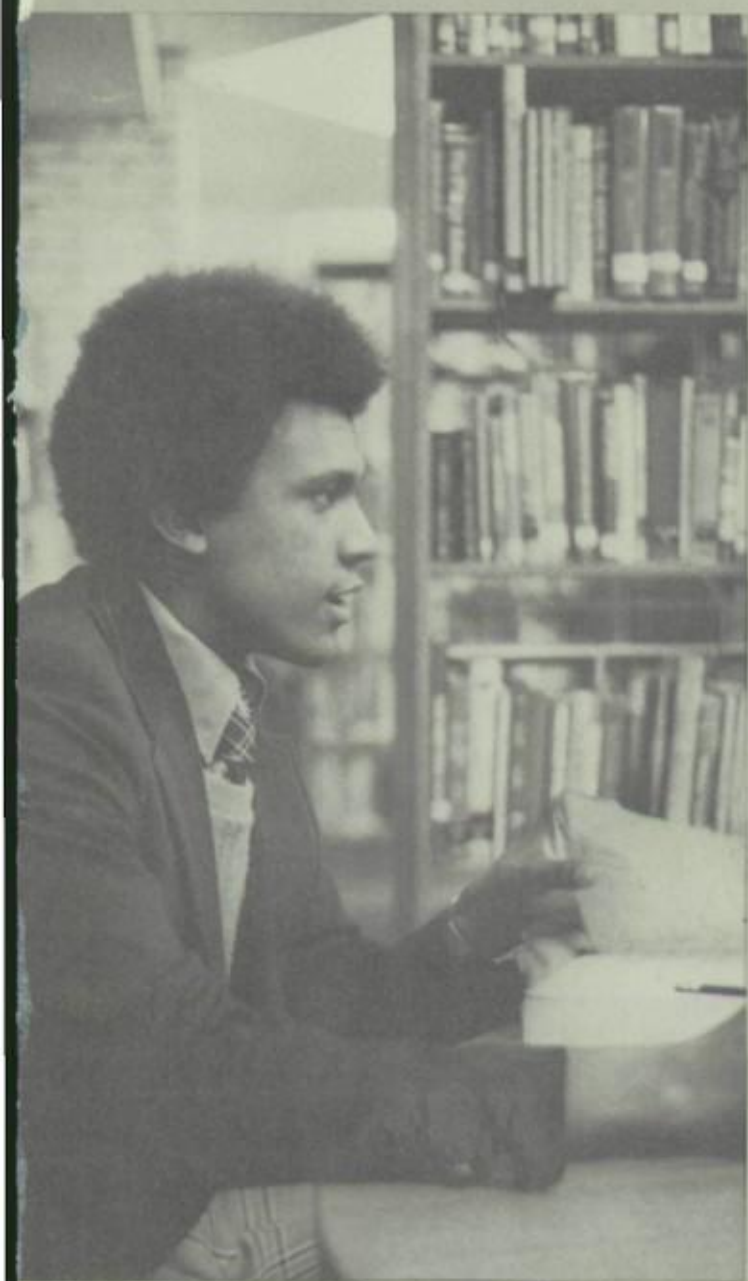

And maybe
they will be surprised.
But maybe that's what it will take.
The Country Day story cannot be the Country Day myth forever.

ABOVE: Mrs. Bryan's Third Grade class loves Hawaiian Punch for their morning juice break. She's happy to oblige them!
RIGHT: Coaching is an integral part of a faculty and staff member's day. Here Mrs. Desman and Mr. Rust are probably mapping out the bus arrangements to get her cheerleaders and his Varsity soccer players to an evening away game.
FAR RIGHT: There was no room for the wrestling mat at the Pancake Supper, so Mr. Reilly pitched in to help Rudy, Jim, and Bert.

The Schlegels Make Our School a Wonderful Place

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Schlegel truly function as the mainspring of Detroit Country Day School. They are both constantly at work, keeping the school running smoothly.

The Headmaster handles administrative and faculty duties as well as participating in Board of Trustee meetings. He appears at most of the school's athletic events, various Collection Talks, and takes time out for after game receptions in the fall.

Mrs. Schlegel is mostly behind the scenes. She is instrumental in setting up the Foreign Exchange Program, once a month she has the Sophomores to dinner before their theatre outings, and she looks after the beautiful flower gardens that grace our campus in warmer weather.

Inside and outside of Country Day, they are two very special people who see to it that the school is always in the best of shape for all students to enjoy. The Schlegels certainly have the thanks of the student body, faculty, and staff for the truly wonderful jobs they both do so very well.

Guidance, Control, And Discipline Are Their 1st Objectives

Country Day's administrative positions are ably filled by a multi-talented group of people who all have one thing in common: hard work and a genuine interest in young people. Their value to the school may be seen in two ways because, in addition to their administrative duties, they also teach. The smooth, consistent functioning of Country Day's Lower Middle, and Upper Schools may be attributed to the administration's strong sense of dedication and its willingness to pool together its diversified talents for the good of the whole school. Together with the Headmaster, they coordinate faculty, staff, students.

Band and Glee Club Are Welcome Dimensions

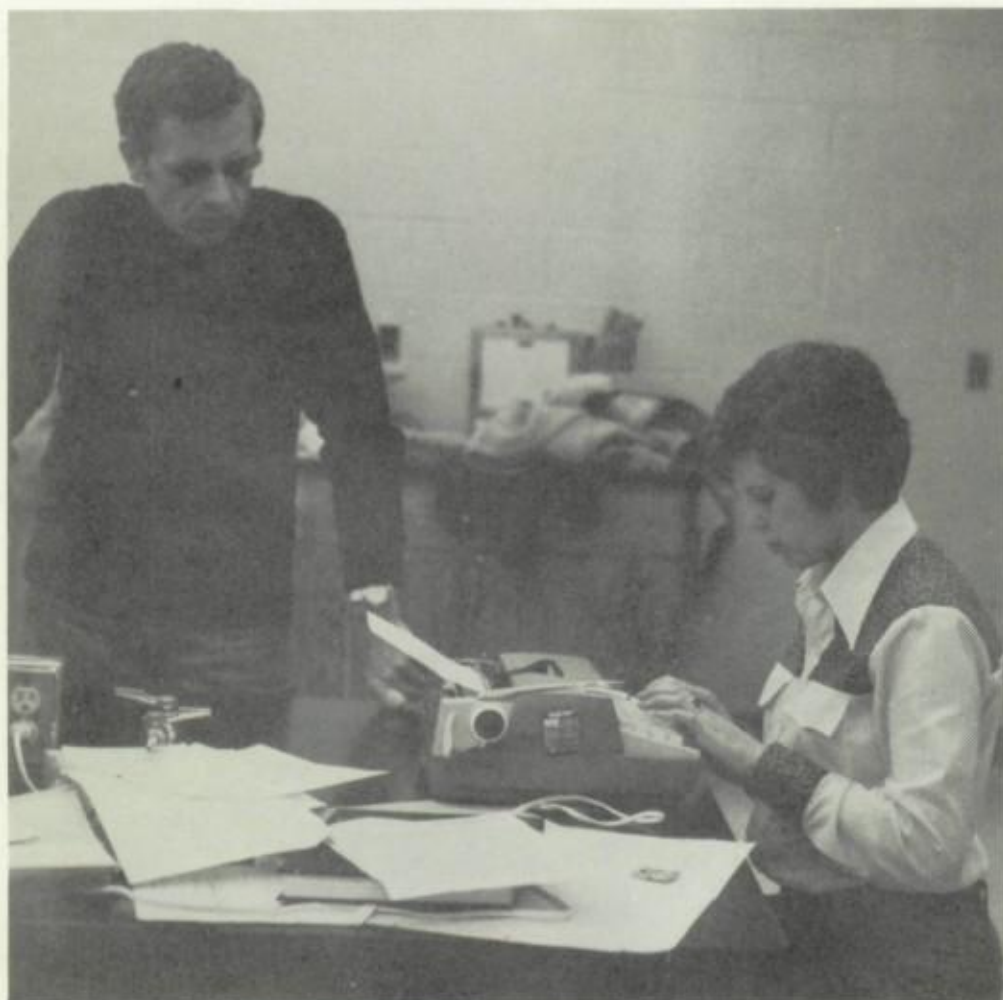

The multi-talented Country Day students who took part in the band and chorus activities, directed by Richard Fox and Paul Donoher, respectively, enjoyed an interesting year of experiences related to musical pursuits. Highlighting this year's activities were a trip to the U of M band day festivities by the marching band and a special Christmas performance held for the elderly by combined vocalists and instrumentalists. Much recognition is due for these students as they have devoted much valuable time to the refinement of their valuable individual skills.

An interesting insight into one of the band members lives was his appearance at a Country Day football game. Bernie Nosakowski quickly ran up the hill at half-time, changed from his football uniform to his band uniform and marched during the half-time performance. The program over, Bernie grabbed his trombone, ran back up the hill, changed again, and was back down for the second half. He missed a very interesting lecture by Coach Reilly!

Fresh Ideas Characterize Blue and Gold Staff

Innovative, that's the word to describe the 1975 Blue and Gold yearbook staff. Guided by able advisor Mr. John Gilbert through the ever-present organized confusion, the staff has instituted significant improvements in this year's book. The eight pages of the color segment prefacing the 1975 volume is the first attempt to utilize full color in the long history of the Blue and Gold. Energetic dedication and leadership typified the efforts of Co-Editors J. C. Boyle and Guy "Plain Speaking" Swanson while Photographic Editor Kent Burns maintained the darkroom facilities in good order. Chairman Jeffrey Fill personally commanded the successful ad campaign. Once again the Blue and Gold will serve as a personal document of important student memories in addition to acting as a vital public relations vehicle. Plans are already being made for next year's book and experienced staffers are vying for the position of editor. The staff wishes to thank the student body for their support.

There Were Only People and Pancakes Galore

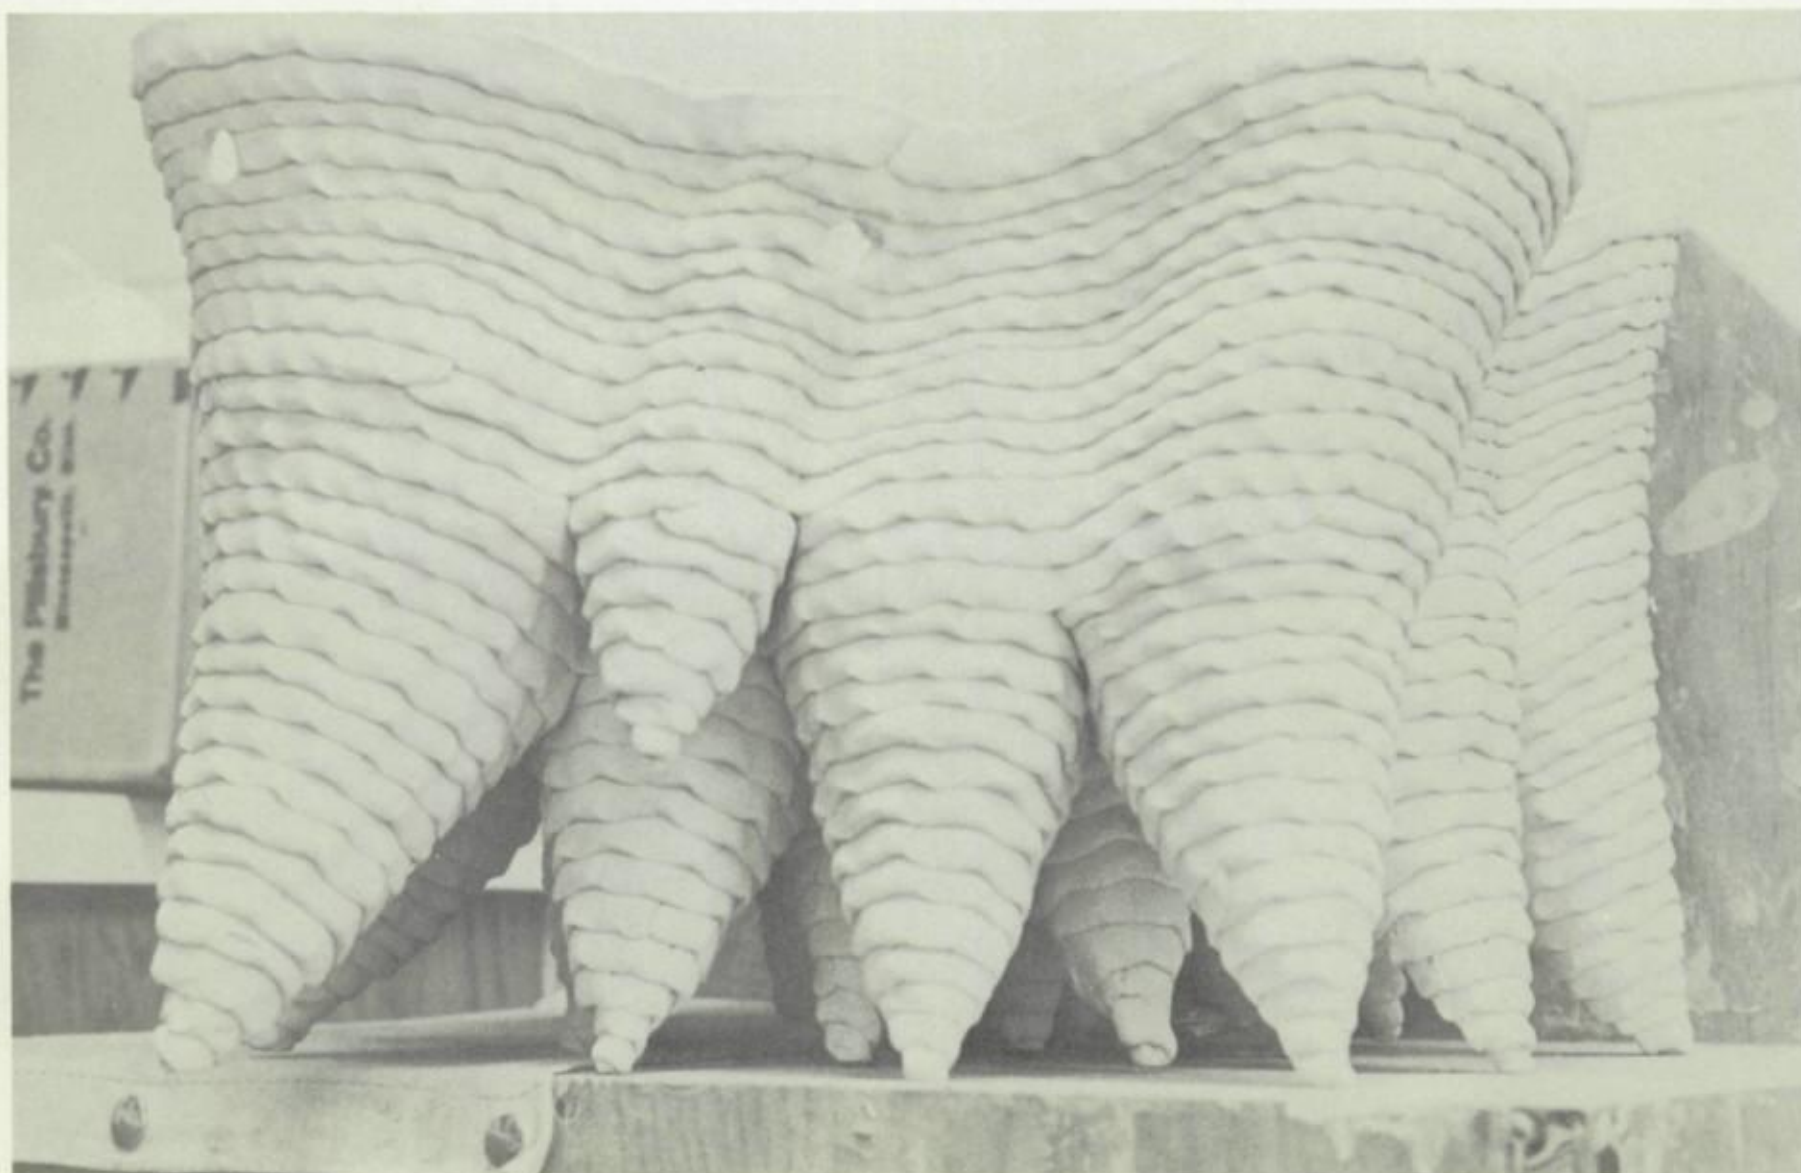

This year's annual Pancake Supper was a tremendous success as many enjoyed their first glimpse of our new addition, a walk through the boutiques and of course a lot of pancakes. A record crowd was registered during the October event, which directed all proceeds into the library fund for the purchase of new books. Students, parents and faculty members all worked together as a group to produce the favorable results which marked the fund raiser.

Art and Drama Programs Keep CD Hopping

The Drama Club production of last year was a very successful performance, with the help of two Senior stars, Jim Boyle and Tom Slavin. Under the expert direction of Mr. Donald Craig, the Club continued its fine upward swing. One of the plays was written by our own Tom Slavin, dealing with an image change for Richard M. Nixon. The suggestions, however, did not prove to be very successful . . . however cogent!

The Art Program also progressed over the school year. With the addition of several new studios Mr. Harry Schwarzer was able to form a truly fine program for his students. Visits by several artists outside the school gave our young creators a new look at different modes of expression. A field trip to Toronto, Ontario, Canada was arranged to see an exhibit of ancient Chinese art. There have also been several films and slide programs to show the student body the history of art and each era that the activity has developed from.

Language Clubs and Assemblies Brighten Up CD

The Foreign Language Clubs at Detroit Country Day are among the fine activities where members of the student body play a large role. The German, French, and Spanish Clubs have bake sales, the proceeds of which help to benefit the Exchange Program. The annual International Dinner also draws a large gathering. Students and parents prepare many exotic dishes from the nations of the world which are heartily eaten. After the dinner, dances, songs, and skits are performed, adding additional enjoyment to the delightful atmosphere.

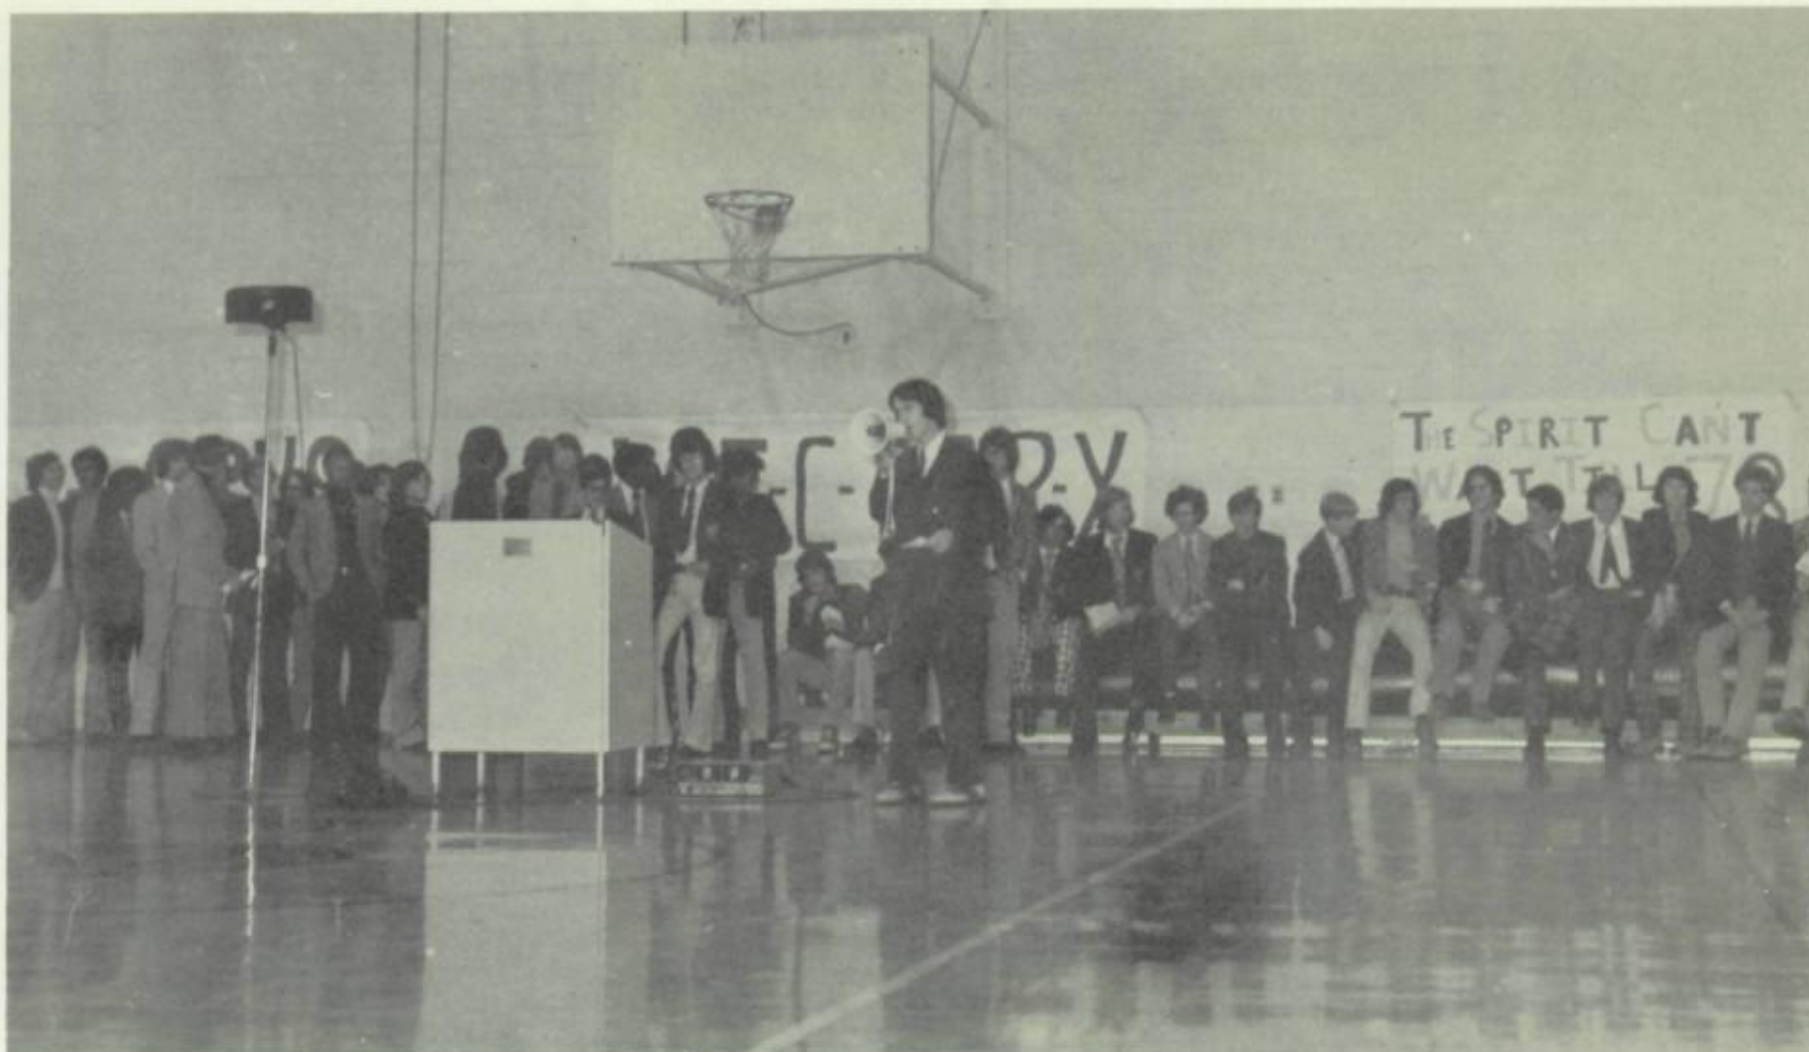

Assemblies of all kinds involve the student body. Every Thursday a Collection Talk is held. Here, members of the faculty and administration speak to the student body on morals and values, philosophies of life, and just about anything. Messrs. Prosperi and Cameron put together an excellent slide program with music dealing with the daily routines of school life.

A giant Pep Rally was held back in the fall just before the sporting events with Grosse Pointe. A skit involving each of the teams was performed by the Cheerleading Squads. Likenesses of several football players were very good. Awards were presented to members of the student body who tend to be the biggest goof-offs. The Pep Rally tremendously helped all of the teams thoroughly trounce the Knights.

Country Day Baseball Teams Enjoy OK Seasons

A couple of timely hits could have turned the 1974 Varsity Baseball season completely around. The hits didn't come however, as often as the errors, passed balls or wild pitches, and the season turned out worse than people expected. In fact, the team's only satisfying moments came in the season's latter stages; successive pitching gems by sidewinder James Boyle and fuzzy-cheeked Glenn Alexander produced consecutive state tournament victories over Catholic League powers St. Agatha and St. Ladislaus. Unfortunately, those wins resulted in a 11-0 shellacking in the district finals by Center Line St. Clement, a team that played like it had received a papal blessing.

The Jackets, as a team, had no such luck (Who ever heard of St. Country Day?) but did have some outstanding individuals. Seniors Chris Thomas, Eric Hansen, Jeffrey Alexander, and Mike Zazon all made important contributions; Zazon and Junior Jim Hinesly were named to the All-District squad. Kevin Butterfield, Charles Murphy, and Tom Gilbert rounded out the ball club.

We're All Behind Our DCD Volleyball Team!

For the first time in their short history at the school, a girls' squad posted a winning record. Under the direction of Coaches Flemming and Clemmer, the second year team made a dramatic improvement throughout the season. In fact, by the end of the campaign they had defeated such highly-touted rivals as the Academy of the Sacred Heart and the DCDS JV Basketball team. Pat Jensen and Kathy Katz kept things hopping with their booming serves while Roz Edwards, Val Thomas, Judy Nagy, and Kathy Keller were excellent "returners." Since there wasn't a Senior on the team, prospects look bright for next year.

This year's group of cheerleaders displayed remarkable endurance and ebullience. Mrs. Desman's ever-flowing vitality made Kim Holt, Linda Angell, Larene Dell, Wendy Warren, and Jan Stulberg always work hard.

Hail, Hail to DCDS, the Rulers of the West

As co-champs of the tough Midwest Lacrosse League, Country Day's stickman almost were the rulers of the west. Coach Eugene Reilly's charges had a very powerful offensive attack, as well as an extremely sticky defense led by All-American net-minder Mike Bucci. Scott Burns, who set some kind of record for hat tricks in a season, led an all-star contingent that included Bucci, lean Burt McCandless, sturdy Marty Letts, slick Andy Conway, tricky Jeff Hibbard, little John Van Antwerp, and solid Jeff Matte. This squad represented Country Day in the league's annual All-Star Classic in Columbus, Ohio. Because of its strong backing by Coach-of-the-year Mr. Reilly and his assistant Mr. McGee, men's lacrosse has become entrenched on the Country Day sports scene.

Women's lacrosse, in its first year of operation, endured a season of successes and failures. Their never-ending enthusiasm made the season eminently worthwhile; Coach Clemmer was eagerly looking the 1975 season as this book went into print.

Thinclads Are Successful Under Great Coaches

Detroit Country Day's grand old man of track, Coach George Browne, was selected as Coach of the Year for 1974. Along with Coach Browne and superb assistance from Coaches Lunemann, Bodary, and Cameron, our Yellowjackets had another fine season.

The team finished first in the Metro Conference and in Oakland County B, C, D, second in the Regional, and fifth in the State Meet. Outstanding performances were turned in by Harry Davis, Dave Merritt, Bob Pastor, and Mike Young.

A new addition to the spring athletic program in 1974 was Women's Track. Coach Prosperi had the girls work extremely hard at their various events, and they were very successful. Aimee Sutherland was a valuable long jumper and hurdler, Cheryl Williamson was an excellent sprinter and hurdler, and Micki Ferris helped in the high jump. With Coach Prosperi's guidance Women's Track is here to stay. 1975 promises to be more successful.

Football Teams Make CD a Real Powerhouse

The 1974 football teams at Country Day were outstanding. Both teams had their best seasons since 1972. Varsity was 6-2-0 and JV was 6-1-0. The high points for both teams were the games against arch rival University Liggett School of Grosse Pointe. JV defeated them quite handily, 34 to 6. Varsity beat them before a record crowd at Grosse Pointe, 14 to 6. The crowd was the largest ever seen at a sporting event involving Country Day. Four bus loads of students and numerous other CD fans watched as the Yellowjackets ran the Knights off the field. It was very exciting and a real pleasure!

Jim Hinesly was again a unanimous pick for All State Honors and the coveted Vince Lombardi Award. Dave Merritt was also an All State selection and had a career rushing mark of 2,200 yards, establishing a new record at Country Day.

JV should feed next year's Varsity with some outstanding additions. Among them will be Rob Ambrose, a fine quarterback and defensive secondary man, running back Courtney Vance who was always around when extra yards were needed, and linemen Mark Lahti and Dick Temple.

Surprising Soccer Team Posts Successful Season

Another unbelievable coaching job by Neil Rust made the '74 Varsity Soccer season a great one. Mr. Rust rebuilt his team to a 16-4-4 record, one of the best marks in school history. Tom Gilbert, Rob Guindi and Mike Smith provided the scoring power, while Marty Letts, Bill Meek and Goalie Butch Boloyan held down the opposition. Seniors Steve Beaumont and Bob Connor also made important contributions.

Coach Prosperi's JV's were equally successful. They were undefeated and unscored upon in regulation games. The disciplined play of John Summerville, Daron Yarjanian, Mike Prentis, Bob Sломiany and Dave Koppin made things easy for Paul Nagy.

Tennis, Field Hockey Provide Athletic Diversity

The Women's Varsity Tennis and Field Hockey teams made autumn afternoons a little more exciting for the Country Day Spectator. The tennis squad, coached by Mrs. Sevie Bens, faced some stiff competition, but fared well in spite of it. Led by Kathy Keller, Kyle Sipple, Sylvia Acosta, and Sheri Shapiro, they posted an exciting victory over neighboring Marian High School. Meredith Lindsay and Michele Touma also made big contributions toward the team's cause.

The field hockey season was enjoyable for both coaches and players. Led by some experienced Seniors, Elaine Coon, Linda Plank, Jo Farquhar, Kathy Schafer and Kerrie Delevie, the girls made every effort to win their games. They didn't, but they tried, and that's what is important. Isn't it? Andi Raar thinks so, and she was one of the team's star players. As the starting goalie, she had more of a chance to excel than the other players, playing 100% of the time.

Harriers and Wrestlers Suffer Growing Pains

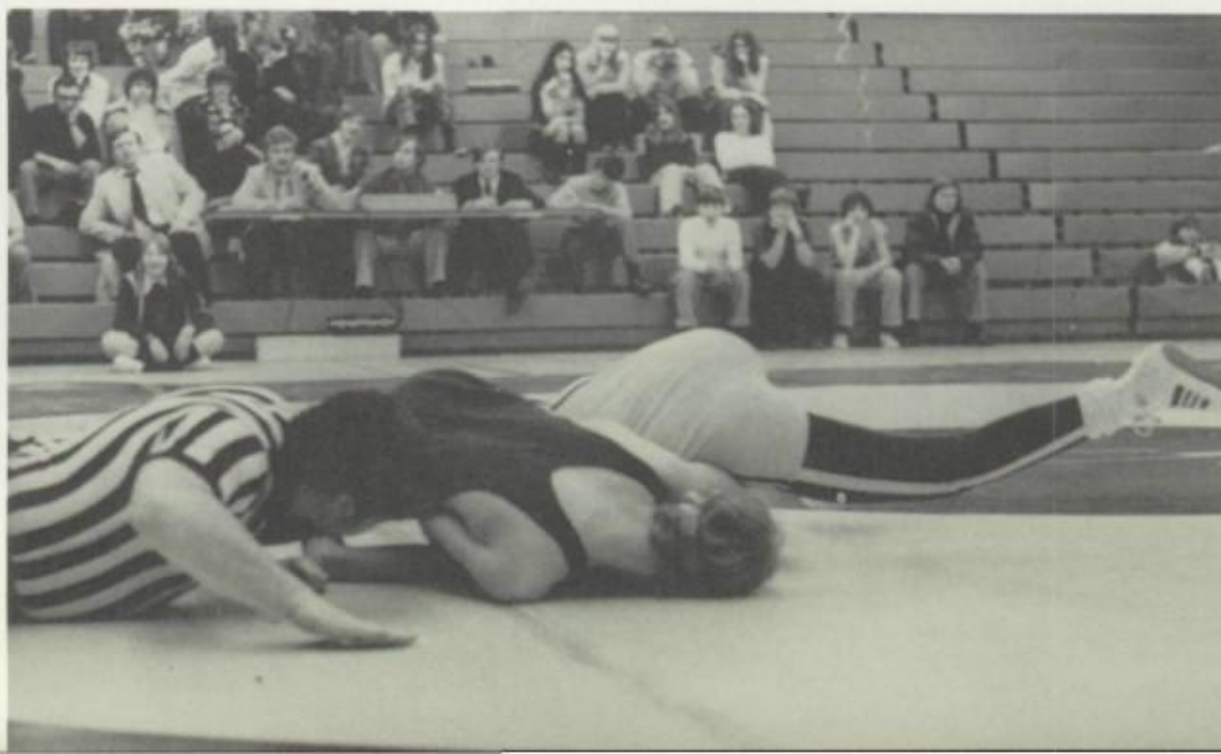

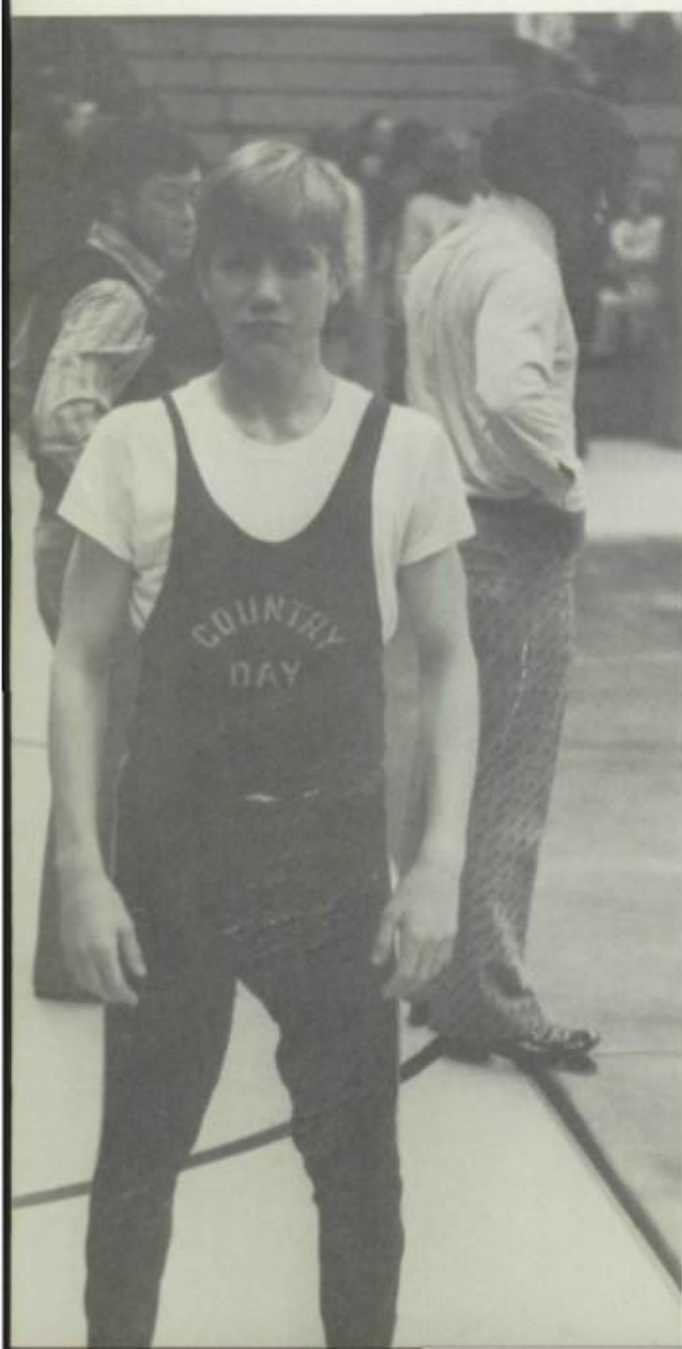

Cross Country and Wrestling are both remarkable tests of endurance that involve every muscle in the body. Very often, however, harriers and grapplers are so evenly matched that experience alone will determine a winner. The 74-75 Cross Country and Wrestling teams had lots of muscle, lots of endurance, and lots of desire, but lacked real experience.

Coach Eugene Jurkiewicz overcame his lack of savvy to lead his team to a respectable season. Hampered by injuries, John Neville showed signs of future stardom, as did David Tabashnik, Judy Nagy, and Doug White. Seniors David Letzer and Paul Jacobson closed out their careers in grand style.

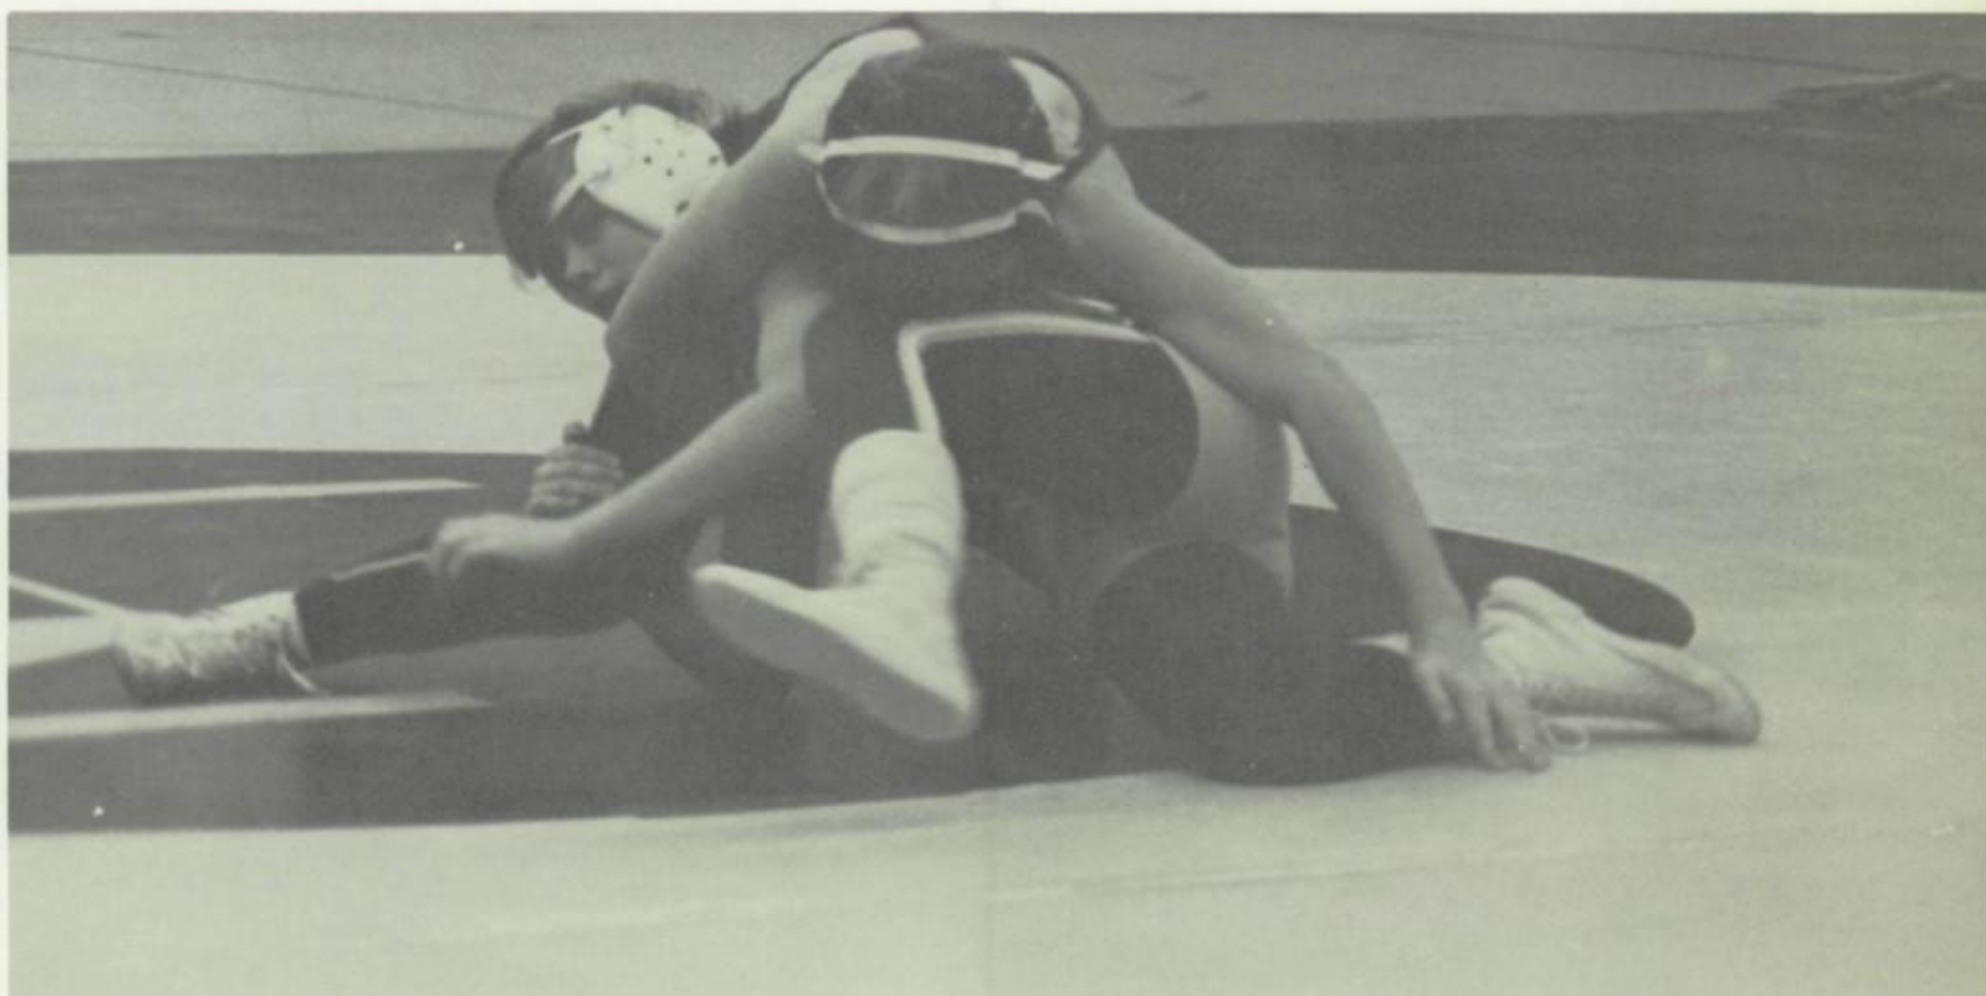

John Campbell's wrestling team was a lot more than respectable; they posted a 6-4 dual meet record. Seniors Captains Jeff Matte and Jeff Fill made the most of their final prep season, while David Payne, Steve Modell, Paul Clark, Jon Swanson, Rick Litwin and Larry Webb look forward to fine future seasons.

Jackets Place 2nd in Metro Conference; Coach J. L. Hannett Says Team Is Definitely Outa' Sight

Country Day's Varsity Basketball team overcame a few short circuits to finish with a 12-1 record, 9-3 in league play. The starting five, which consisted of David Merritt, Jim Hinesly, Rob Guindi, Willard Holt, and Chris Yelder displayed a degree of teamwork not often found on a high school squad. Their fine work was supplemented by substitutes Mike Rhodes, J. C. Boyle, Michael Young, Courtney Vance, Gary Gilyard, Tommy Gilbert, and Peter Pamel, with each player making his own unique contribution. Season highlights included a pair of victories over always-tough Lutheran East, a convincing win against the Cosmos of Hamtramck, and a revenge victory over Cranbrook.

JV Cagers Pin Lone Defeat on Previously Undefeated Luth. West

The highlight of the JV Basketball season came in their next-to-last game; they knocked off Lutheran West, a team that had beaten them previously by 40 points. This victory culminated a long season of hard work for Coach Jim Cameron and his "top seven" of Howard Becker, Bruce Zivian, Keith Jackson, Jim Rosenfeld, Mark McGowan, David Tabashnik, and Jeff Collins.

Freshman Sanny Greenwalt Is The 3rd Best Skier in Michigan

In only its second year of competitive racing, the Country Day ski team fared remarkably well. Coach Max McGee's squad, behind the strong leadership of Seniors Mike Smith and Eddie Findlater, had a very successful dual meet season, faltered in the divisional, but then came back strong to take third place in the regionals, where Sanny Greenawalt took third-place in the slalom, and was robbed of a victory in the giant slalom by a jury decision.

Gilman and Smock Beckon Swimmers to Great Heights

Country Day's swim team, also in its second year of existence, failed to win a meet but did have some outstanding individual performances under the tutelage of Coaches Brad Gilman and Paul Smock. Steve Horwitz, John Gargaro, Skip Sullivan, and returning veteran Brian Gargaro made the season memorable in many respects as they showed consistent improvement throughout the year. Coach Smock said the boys' medley relay team could reach the states next year. For the women, Leslie Touma, Michelle Touma, Shari Shapiro, Roxanne Russell, Anita Flynn, and Peri Blum turned in excellent times, and made the season memorable in all respects. Interest in high school swimming is growing continually, and Country Day is certainly no exception.

Young Pucksters Make Big Splash on the Ice

The DCDS Hockey team had another great season under the leadership of sometimes-moustachioed Coach Harry Lapointe. Despite the loss of many key players to graduation, the team had enough gusto to post four times as many victories as defeats in a grueling schedule that included over 20 games.

No. 1 goalie Glenn Alexander was the team's catalyst; he made all the good lunchtime announcements. Junior defensemen Brian Miller and Duncan Brown gave Glenn all the help he needed, while the first line of Dave Phillips, Billy Gee, and Louie Schmidt provided the scoring firepower. Bill Decker, Tom Schaefer, and Bill Meek played consistently at both ends of the rink and did a lot of digging in the corners. They sharpened their elbows as well as their skates.

Important victories included a 2-1 squeaker over highly-rated Ecorse, and a long-awaited 6-3 win over arch-rival Cranbrook. Mr. Lapointe, who was assisted by Bill Murdoch, guided his squad to a second place finish in the very tough Second Division of the Metro Hockey Association.

Mightier Middler Midgets Take Giant Steps in Clubs

The four years of the Middle School are a unique experience and provide a period of adjustment between the self-contained, protective environment of the Lower School and the less structured atmosphere of the Upper School. Teeming with energy that can't be drawn off either in class or in athletics, activities play an important role in the development of these young men and women. The activities are not superimposed by faculty, but grow out of the interests and enthusiasm of the students. From Flash Gordon cryptography to cataloguing books in the library, our Middlers keep themselves (and the faculty) hopping.

Spring Sports: 'It's Good to Be Outside Again'

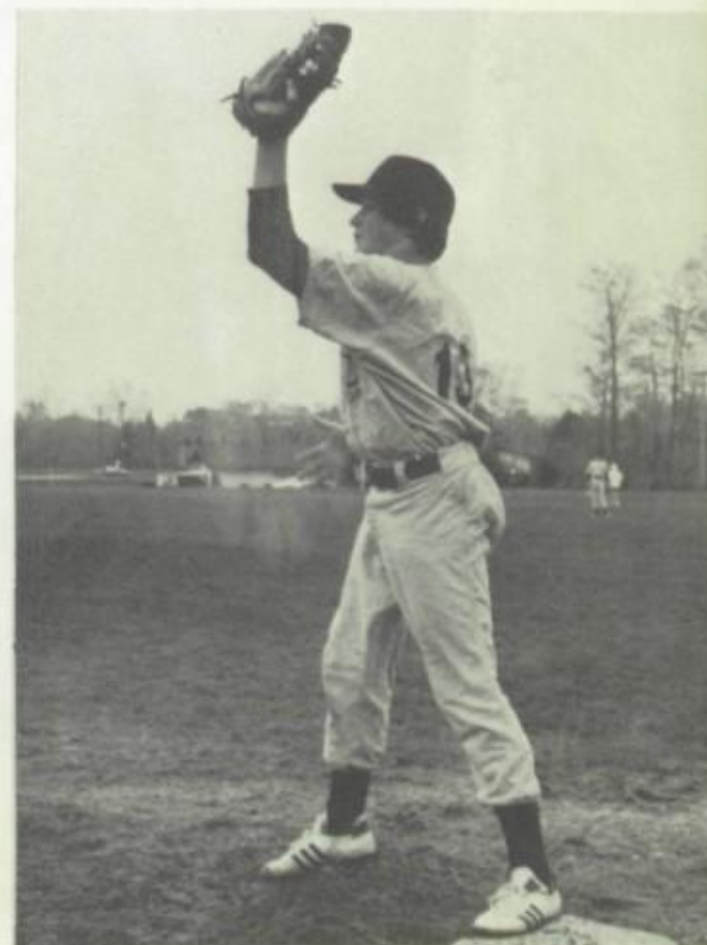

After being cramped in a crowded gymnasium all winter long, the Middlers found welcome relief in their athletic activities last spring.

The girls, led by Coaches Prosperi, Fleming, and Psaila, made their mark in track, tennis, and lacrosse. In track, a new school record was established in every event. Mary Riley and Dee Cook turned in outstanding performances in long distance races, while Silvia Acosta and Sylvia Davis excelled in the hurdles. Dora Djuric showed prospects of being a great middle-distance runner. Meredith Lindsay led an inexperienced tennis squad through a learning which will benefit them in the long run. The girls' lacrosse team also learned about a new sport.

The boys also played lacrosse, in addition to running track and playing baseball. Coach Max McGee's stickmen should make up the core of Mr. Reilly's varsity in a couple of seasons. Messrs. Murdoch and Hocevar coached their baseball teams to respectable seasons, while the track team, led by David Auer and Dave Koppin, had fun while competing in both dual meets and large invitationals. The team was unusually well-balanced; it showed promise in nearly every event.

Middler Athletics Perk Up a Dull Winter Day

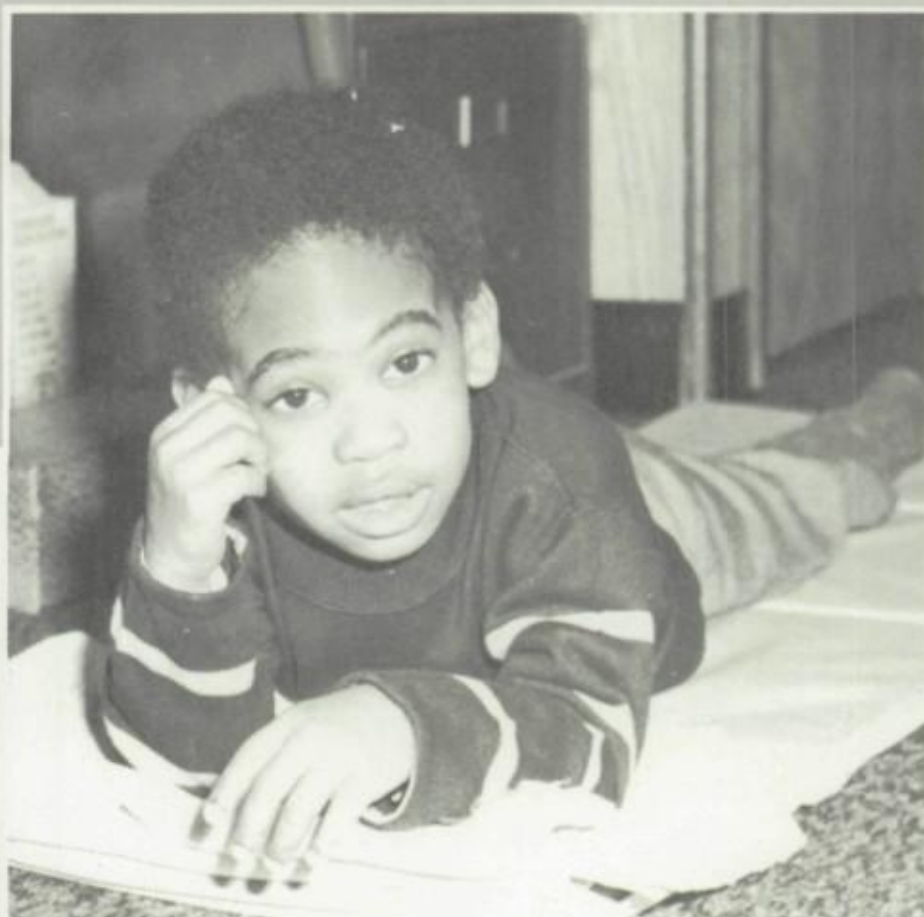

The only way to describe Middler winter sports is mass confusion as a relief from mass boredom. Skillfully advised by Middler Athletic Director George W. Browne, the coaches take their eager young athletes into the gym or wrestling room, daily, for many rugged contests. These young Middlers make an excellent start for the rigorous programs which await them in the years that follow.

Once Upon a Time There Was a Kite Eating

Every year the ominous kite eating tree swallows up student creations for Kite Day, much to the chagrin of their creators.

Tree That Ate Exceptionally Well Every Spring

After a long winter season, Spring is more than welcome in the Lower School. Two of the most exciting Spring activities for these children are Kite Day and Field Day. Both events have a long tradition at Country Day. If the enthusiasm they engendered in 1974 is any measure, they have an assured future.

For Kite Day the students are encouraged to make their own kites and are judged on the beauty of their art. Other prizes are awarded for the highest flyers. Field Day later on in the Spring brings the whole Lower School, their parents and the faculty out to the athletic fields for a variety of field events from softball throwing to peanut races.

It's a Long and Busy Day With Little Time To Play

The Lower School day starts at 8:30 a.m. and somehow by 2:15 p.m. when it's all over, the boys and girls have been exposed to the usual reading, writing and arithmetic, along with specials like art, French, music, science, and phys ed for good measure. Oh, yes, don't forget a juice and cookie break at mid-morning, recess, and lunch. And then there are the field trips, special celebrations for holidays, preparations for the Christmas program, Heritage Day at Greenfield Village, Kite Day, Field Day . . . and the beat goes on! It's a fast pace for teachers and students alike. Parents get involved, too, as library or room mothers, chauffeurs, and of course as enthusiastic audiences.

ABOVE: If someone graduates from Country Day without having signed out to the library so he could have a Big Mac, he is either incredibly cheap or incredibly naive. ABOVE RIGHT: Everyone wears Roots. What else goes with a flannel shirt and straight-legged Levis. And argyle socks. And braces. And summer camp . . . RIGHT: Country Day is actually in Beverly Hills, not Birmingham — just ask the local building inspector. ACROSS: Take a look at that spire. Does school still seem so important?
